- 134 Nuits-Saint-Georges 1er Cru Clos Marechal 2010, Domaine Faiveley 295
The bouquet of the 1er crus of Premeaux is remarkable and persistent, one finds the aroma of iris mingled with raspberries, even more so, that of white lilac
- 143 Gevrey Chambertin Lavaux St Jacques 2009, Louis Jadot 160
The harvest is manual in small crates in order to preserve the integrity of the fruit. Very dry, austere with dusty chalky notes, red currant, raspberries and coffee beans on the palate. Prominent Oak with a complex core of fruit underneath
- 144 Morey Saint-Denis Clos des Ormes 2015, Louis Jadot 145
Palate has a firm liquorice edge to sweet fruit. Powerfully ripe tannins and good acidity lengthen the finish for a lovely balance.

NEW ZEALAND REDS

- 84 Pinot Noir, Eradus 2021, Awatere Valley, Marlborough 175ml glass - £13 | 500ml carafe - £34 50
Deep, dark ruby, with purple flashes. The nose has meaty, dark fruit and some farmyard notes. The palate has plenty of dark berry fruit and some savoury and earthy characters. This is all balanced with the trademark Eradus acidity and freshness - delicious.

SOUTH AFRICAN REDS

- 89 Pinotage 2019, Rhebokskloof Wine Estate, Paarl, South Africa 43
This acclaimed vineyard in the beautiful Paarl region is a Pinotage specialist – Pinotage being South Africa's chosen "indigenous" grape variety. Dark and brooding with juicy ripe fruits, intermingled with subtle smoky and meaty notes, yet retaining a freshness and a purity.
- 94 Shiraz Nelson Estate 2018, Paarl, South Africa 50
Deep, dark, black-ruby core, fading slightly at the rim. Dark, ripe fruit on the nose with rich mocha notes. On the palate the fruit is concentrated and mature with great structure and a smoky/savoury finish. The trademark Nelson Estate elegance and freshness is

The following three wines all come from the small estate owned by the much loved and admired golfing great that is Ernie Els. Founded in 1999 in the beautiful wine country of Stellenbosch in his native South Africa, while Ernie was in his pomp, he immediately employed the multi award winning winemaker Louis Strydom to look after his winery. This is very much a labour of love for both men, with very low production and the utmost quality being the watchwords here; so much so that they have achieved a rare 5 star rating by the South African wine guru John Platter in his guide. Please do try these excellent wines.

GOLFER'S WINES

- 151 The Major Series Merlot 2017, Ernie Els, Stellenbosch, South Africa 65
The 2017 vintage Major Series Merlot has all the hallmarks of a classic Merlot, with ripe plums and earthy notes, supported by a core of minerality. The wine is fleshed out with ripe strawberry, forest underfloor and a hint of dark chocolate. This is a really lovely wine with a ripe juicy concentrated heart and a long finish.
- 152 The Major Series Cabernet Sauvignon 2017, Ernie Els, Stellenbosch, South Africa 65
Pure-fruited Cassis on the nose open to a fine balance of dark chocolate, wet earth, delicate spice and dried herbs. The palate has a dark inky intensity punched by a core of mineral finesse and all wrapped by a broad-shouldered finish. The tannins are burly and taught, but will easily integrate with time as this decadent Cabernet Sauvignon will age well for a decade. Serious yet sumptuous.
- 153 The Proprietor's Blend 2017, Stellenbosch, South Africa 85
Cabernet Sauvignon comes across with striking purity. It is once again richly concentrated and yet remarkably elegant and refined. Purple hued and powerfully built, its components are seamlessly knitted into a Cassis-fruited, superbly layered palate. Hints of black cherries, dark chocolate, graphite and apricots are all balanced by its subtle oak support.
- 154 Signature Bordeaux Blend 2014 Stellenbosch, South Africa 115
Ernie Els Signature is similar to the empathic and precise 2009 although packs even more power and performance. Cabernet Sauvignon based, all five Bordeaux varieties contribute to its superior complexity, class and character. Ripe mulberry, strawberries laced with balsamic, graphite and a hint of chocolate all follow through to the luxuriously textured palate.
